

The Albuquerque Fair October 11 to 16

The largest and the prettiest advertising car that the New Mexico Boosters have ever put out to advertise their Fair spent a few hours in Holbrook to day. If the Fair is as big and complete as the car it will be a dandy. The people of Northern Arizona will join hands with their sister Territory in helping to advance the common interests by bringing ourselves to the attention of the whole west and a large part of the East.

Never before have we been honored by a visit to a festival by the President of the United States. All the great south west should gather in Albuquerque October the 11 to 16 to give President Taft the cordial welcome that is his.

The Albuquerque Fair Association has arranged for many new events most of which have never been before in this section. Stobles great air ship will make daily and night flights over the grounds. Stobles ship took first and second money at the St. Louis Exhibition. This sight is well worth any ones money to see. Push-Ball on horse back will be played for the first time west of the Mississippi, except for the one time at Pasadena where it attracted thousands of people.

Besides these new features there will be the old standard fair and carnival events. The Blackwell Tobacco Co. has offered a $1000.00 purse to be known as the Bull Durham Stake Race. There are big base ball purses offered and many entries have been made for the fifteen mile marathon, the start and finish is to be in front of the grand stand. In order that every one might see the President and big air ship the Santa Fe will offer extremely low rates.

Wesley L. Jones Dead.

Again we are called upon chronicle the death of one of our most respected citizens, Wesley L. Jones who died at his home near Taylor, Sunday Aug. 29th, at ten o'clock and forty five minutes p. m. at the age of forty four years and three days. Mr. Jones had been afflicted with a stomach trouble for a long time, and was confined to his bed for the last month or two unable to take any nourishment most of the time. He was conscious up to the last and the passing was peaceful and without pain.

Mr. Jones was raised in this Territory, his father Daniel W. Jones came to Arizona some time about 1875 and explored the unknown part of the Territory. He located at Lehigh and helped to improve that part of the Territory, where Wesley Jones grew to be a man. Mr. Jones was married to a Miss Sanders and to them several children were born and who survive him. Mr. Jones was County Assessor at the time of his death. He was well liked and held in very high esteem by those who knew him. To the bereaved family we extend our sympathy and can only say to them he has arrived at the end of the road before his family his neighbors and his friends. We are all traveling the same road and it is only a matter of a few days, a few months or a few years until we all come to the end of that same road.

Snowflake Items from our regular Correspondent

Miss Alice Berry is spending a few days in Snowflake, the guest of Mrs. A. H. Smith. Mrs. Smith gave a social and a supper in honor of her birthday which was pronounced a decided success.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana have returned to their home at Mase. J. W. Pearce was in town last week.

The Willis reunion was held last Wednesday. A dance in the evening completed a very pleasant day.

Prof. Clowther is in town, he is talking of establishing an experiment station here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Cooly are spending a few days here.

Miss Jennie McLaws was here last week visiting with her brother.

Snowflake's dress maker, Miss Laura Ballard, left Saturday for a short stay in St. Joseph. It is not certain she has given up the chase in Snowflake, but it is certain she went chasing down there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Smith have returned from St. Joseph.

Alonzo Bashman and Maud Fuller came in from Heber yesterday.

Miss Lucy Turley is in from the ranch.

A number of Snowflake young people took an excursion Monday evening. The fried chicken and roasted corn were immense. They came nearly having an accident but escaped with a broken hay rack and one of the horses skinned up some. It is said the next morning the leader of the party received a cordial invitation to make a visit and arriving he found his father and three long currant sprouts. What happened.

A number of Snowflake's people went to Taylor, Tuesday to attend the funeral of W. L. Jones.

John R. Hulet is again in town. Ethel Smith has returned from St. Joseph.

John L. Fish and Charley Fought were here yesterday from Showlow, on business.

Orin Kartchner and family are moving into A. P. Larsons house a few months.

C. P. Campbell is in charge at the Rangers office, in Supervisor Mackays absence. Mrs. Campbell and children are here now.

Silas L. Fish has returned from Flagstaff, where he has been attending summer school.

Navajo County

Fruits, Vegetables, Forage, and all kinds of grain will grow in this County if you will only water the land. It will come to this soon for all the free land in America has been taken. The Lord will probably not make any more, and still the land hungry horder Europe are thronging to us. One need have no gift of prophecy to foretell the result. We have reached a condition that the world has never known since Columbus gave us a vacant continent. The free land is gone forever. The cheap land and what little land that can yet be Homesteaded here will be like the rest, gone forever. This is one of the most favored communities in the United States. One of the best climates in the world and Holbrook the best town to its size. Spread the good tidings abroad and lets have a town good enough for any body to live in. Make it a residence town as well as a commercial town.

Republican Party

It is our belief that the 7,000-mile journey of President Taft through the West and South will mark the beginning of a new era in the history of the Republican party. The real control of that mighty organization from the days of Charles Sumner and Thad Stevens to the present of Aldrich and Hale and Lodge has rested in the East. President have been elected from Ohio and Indiana, one potential leader in that Senate hailed from Iowa, Hanna came out of Ohio and Cannon from Illinois, but through out the entire fifty years the underlying dominance has been exercised with quiet effectiveness and a firm hand from New York, Pennsylvania and New England. Apparent leader from west of the Alleghenies have been but as pawns, restive at times, but invariably subservient in the end the stronger authority of a few men capable of wielding with skill the adhesive power of party unification.

The passage of the tariff bill signaled the beginning of the end of that control. For the first time in the history of the party ten Republican senators broke the party chains and committed party treason. Returning to their homes, they received ovations, while representatives of like communities who had demonstrated their fealty to the organization after the old manner met with sullen looks boding ill for their future political fortunes. But it is now plain that, while angered by what they regard as betrayal of an obligation, the Republicans of the West place no part of the responsibility at the door of President Taft. Him they still regard at their sincere friend and as the one man whose sympathies, aspirations, and official position equip him pre-eminently for the assumption of real leadership of a new and determined movement within the party to eliminate narrowness and install breath of authority in vital affairs of governance.

This is the situation which President Taft is called upon to face, and he is prepared to meet it with calmness and courage. Nobody has a keener appreciation of the condition than he; few understand it as well. While not seeking or craving great personal opportunity he realizes that great personal opportunity has been forced upon him and he is ready. The true purpose of President Taft's visit to the country is to pave the way for signal accomplishment. His mission is to free the Republican party. It is a task of no mean magnitude as he well understands. To succeed he must convince the people of his own single mindedness he must indicate plainly his real intent he must win their unqualified allegiance and support.

It sees the good in things without regard to the source or party from which it comes. I like The Star because it has convictions, of its own and has the courage to proclaim these convictions. It does not seem that The Star is seeking popularity, but that it is seeking the truth and the justice of all things. Its politics is good government. These things have made The Star popular. We would probably be safe in saying that the position taken and maintained by The Star is unique. The Star ought to be in every home in the United States. -T. C. Allen, Lockwood, Mo.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30. - Carelessness in the production of timber and recklessness in its use because it has been abundant, has brought upon the nation a menace that will take many years to remove, says R. S. Kellogg, assistant forester in the forest service, in a publication issued to-

"We are cutting forests three times as fast as they are growing," says Kellogg. Yearly the drain on our forests is twenty billion cubic feet. The annual growth is less than seven billion cubic feet."

San Francisco, Cal. Aug. 30. - Ratification of the action taken by Sam Berger in signing the tentative articles with Jack Johnson in Chicago is the substance of a cablegram received today by Berger from Jeffries, who is in Germany.

Berger contended that Jeffries, misunderstood what he had done and today showed the following cablegram:

"Agreement satisfactory. Inform the newspapers that your action is authorized by me. Berger declared that the cablegram made it certain that the big fight would take place.

A. Schuster, of the Firm of A. & B. Schuster, arrived in town from Los Angeles, this morning. Mr. Schuster was much surprised at the growth and many improvements made in town since he was here last June.
